

Take You Home

There's music in your ears, wherever you shall go
The crashing of the waves, on the seashore
There's music in your ears, wherever you shall go
Listen to the beat of your heart, it'll take you home
Home, home

All around the world, hear the clashing of the drums
Ready for the show, the trumpets they become Alive in the moment, captured in a song
Oh what a time to be alive, everybody we are one

If you're somebody who loves then you're somebody my friend
Oh won't you sing it again

There's music in your ears, wherever you shall go
The crashing of the waves, on the seashore
There's music in your ears, wherever you shall go
Listen to the beat of your heart, it'll take you home
Home, home

It'll take you home
Home, home
