

Using flow charts

Flow charts use arrows and a series of differently shaped boxes to set out instructions in a clear order. Flow charts always have a start and an end point.

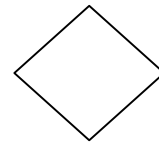

This symbol represents the start or end of the instructions.

This symbol contains instructions.

This symbol is used when a decision needs to be made.

Example

