

Using -able or -ible endings

Choose either -able or -ible to end each of the adjectives.

If you aren't sure, check in a dictionary.

Thank you so much for such an enjoy... evening. I felt really comfort... in your lovely home and your family was very welcoming. Wasn't the weather terr... that evening! Luckily, it stopped raining later and I had a reason... journey home afterwards.

We are looking for a new member of staff for the reception desk. The person needs to be sens..., reli... and depend.... The receptionist also needs to be friendly and approach.... It would be desir... if they could work flex...hours. Please send applications to the Centre Manager by 12 December.

The meal we ate in that restaurant was horr.... I found the meat was so tough it was ined... and the vegetables were indigest.... The level of service was also unaccept.... I would find it imposs... to recommend it to anyone.