

Writing a postcard

When you're writing a postcard there isn't much space. Use personal pronouns to save space and to make your sentences more interesting. Help Julie finish her postcard:

Frances, _____ are having a wonderful time. The children disappear most of the day - _____ seem to be having great fun. Bill is enjoying the water sports – _____ has even tried water- skiing! _____ am spending my time sunbathing and reading. Bill wanted to do some sightseeing but had a few problems with the car. _____ took a little while to get the hang of driving _____! _____ drove into a field, which upset some local people. _____ were rather cross about the damaged grape vines. _____ am going to stick with the sunbathing. Wish _____ were here! Love Julie xx	 Mrs F Cook 218 Wood Lane Glasgow Scotland
---	--

The personal pronouns you can use to fill the gaps are:

I | you | he | she | it | we | they | me | you | him | her | it | us | them