

The best job in the world - Spotting verb-subject agreement

Verbs and subjects must agree!

Highlight the correct verb forms in the text below so that they agree with their subjects.

IN THE NEWS

The best job in the world?

Some jobs is/are very demanding, but someone has/have to do them. Recently Partnum & Brown was/were looking for a new chocolate buyer. The company was/were advertising a salary of £35,000 a year.

The successful applicant had/have to travel the world to find the best chocolate makers. He or she would taste as much chocolate as possible, and then decide which was/were the best for their customers. They expected top quality for the world renowned Food Hall.

The company was/were expecting a lot of applications for the job. They was/were looking for someone who worked hard, enjoyed food, had a keen eye for packaging and was/were able to control a budget. They also wanted someone who was/were enthusiastic, energetic and loved chocolate!