

Listen and draw

Work with a partner. Sit back to back. One person will describe the pictures. The descriptions should be about size, shape and details, not naming the object or saying what it does. There is a list of words not allowed to be used in the descriptions.

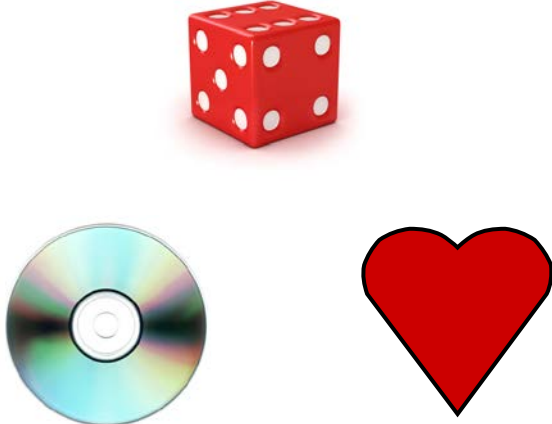

The other person has to listen carefully to the description and draw their own version of the picture. Compare the pictures when you have finished. Here is an example. The pictures to describe are on page 2.
