Solving a Dinosaur Mystery_ with Fossil Evidence

Fossils aren't actually bones! The bone is replaced by rocks and minerals over millions of years.

All living things have special features that help them live well in their natural habitat.

Fossils offer clues to the kind of place in which prehistoric plants and animals lived.

adaptations