

Activity 3: You were...

In this section, we learn more about the people who fought in the First World War. Think about this soldier and try and imagine the life he led. How can you sum up who they were?

What do you think they were like?

What items do you think they had?

Private Mason Simonton,
Belfast

What do you think their life was like in the war?

Who do you think they left behind?

Use what you've found out about the people who lived through the war to create the second line of your haiku. Remember to use just seven syllables.

The second line of my haiku:

Activity 3: You were...

In this section, we learn more about the people who fought in World War One. Think about this soldier and try and imagine the life he led. How can you sum up who they were?

What do you think they were like?

What items do you think they had?

What do you think their life was like in the war?

Who do you think they left behind?

Use what you've found out about the people who lived through the war to create the second line of your haiku. Remember to use just seven syllables.

The second line of my haiku:

Activity 3: You were...

In this section, we learn more about the people who fought in World War One. Think about this soldier and try and imagine the life he led. How can you sum up who they were?

What do you think they were like?

What items do you think they had?

Private Samuel Augustus Stewart
Thomas,
Wrexham

What do you think their life was like
in the war?

Who do you think they left behind?

Use what you've found out about the people who lived through the war to create the second line of your haiku. Remember to use just seven syllables.

The second line of my haiku:

Activity 3: You were...

In this section, we learn more about the people who fought in World War One. Think about this soldier and try and imagine the life he led. How can you sum up who they were?

What do you think they were like?

What items do you think they had?

Staff Nurse Agnes Murdoch
Climie, Glasgow City

What do you think their life was like in the war?

Who do you think they left behind?

Use what you've found out about the people who lived through the war to create the second line of your haiku. Remember to use just seven syllables.

The second line of my haiku:

Activity 3: You were...

In this section, we learn more about the people who fought in World War One. Think about this soldier and try and imagine the life he led. How can you sum up who they were?

What do you think they were like?

What items do you think they had?

Choose an image from pagesofthesea.org.uk
Print and paste it here

What do you think their life was like
in the war?

Who do you think they left behind?

Use what you've found out about the people who lived through the war to create the second line of your haiku. Remember to use just seven syllables.

The second line of my haiku: