What did Brenda say about computer games?

Possible answers:

Question	Answer
What does she think?	She thinks computer games are bad for children.
Why does she think that?	They are violent and children might begin to think it's okay to hurt people.
Does she give any other reasons?	They play on them for hours, staring at a screen and it can harm their eyesight. They don't go out and get exercise, stay up late, can't get to sleep and can't get up in the morning.
What example does she give?	Her son played on his computer all weekend and didn't go out at all.
Does she repeat her opinion at the end?	Yes, she thinks computer games are really bad for children.
